Author Barbara Davis deftly explores an emotionally charged landscape of pain, loss, and despairâ€”and the risk one woman will take in the hope of loving again.

As a teenage runaway and child of an addict, Christy-Lynn learned the hard way that no address was permanent, and no promise sacred. For a while, she found a safe haven in her marriage to bestselling crime novelist Stephen Ludlowâ€”until his car skidded into Echo Bay. But Stephenâ€™s wasnâ€™t the only body pulled from the icy waters that night. When details about a mysterious violet-eyed blonde become public, a media circus ensues, and Christy-Lynn runs again.

Desperate for answers, sheâ€™s shattered to learn that Stephen and his mistress had a childâ€”a little girl named Iris, who now lives in poverty with her ailing great-grandmother. The thought of Iris abandoned to the foster care systemâ€”as Christy-Lynn once wasâ€”is unbearable. But sheâ€™s spent her whole life runningâ€”determined never to be hurt again. Will she finally stand still long enough to open herself up to forgiveness and love?
